

“Word, Shout, Song: LORENZO DOW TURNER CONNECTING COMMUNITIES THROUGH LANGUAGE”

A world-class exhibition developed by the Smithsonian Institution's Anacostia Community Museum.

The Avery Research Center for African American History and Culture cordially invites you to the exhibition opening, reception, and lecture:

“Word, Shout, Song: Lorenzo Dow Turner Connecting Communities through Language,” a world-class exhibition developed by the Smithsonian Institution’s Anacostia Community Museum.

AVERY RESEARCH CENTER
THURSDAY
JANUARY 12, 2012
6 p.m.

Special Guest Speakers:

Smithsonian
Anacostia Community Museum

CAMILLE AKEJU, Director of the
Smithsonian’s Anacostia Community Museum

DR. JOHNNETTA COLE, Director of the
Smithsonian’s Museum of African Art

$25 per person, payable at the door

RSVP required: eksavare@cofc.edu or 843.953.6526

Contact info: avery.cofc.edu or 843.953.7234

The Avery Research Center would like to thank our lead partners:

College of Charleston Office of the President
City of Charleston

MeadWestvaco Community Development and Land Management Group

COLLEGE of
CHARLESTON
AVERY RESEARCH CENTER

125 BULL STREET
CHARLESTON, SC 29424