

Irish & Irish-American Studies

Help us celebrate a potential new program at the College of Charleston

The Irish and Irish-American Studies exploratory committee invites you to a reception following the Theatre Department's production of Dancing at Lughnasa, the award-winning play by Irish playwright, Brian Friel. Friends of Ireland and faculty will mingle over food and drink and music in the beautiful atmosphere of the Towell Library on the Cistern Yard.

Tickets to the play are available at 953-5604.

Sunday, 23 February 2014

The play starts at 3pm in the Emmett Robinson Theatre. The reception starts after the play, at approximately 5pm. Come for both or just for the reception.

for more information
contact Joe Kelly

(843) 953-4815
kellyj@cofc.edu